Dear Parents,

Wow! It's already week 8 next week! The Grade1-6 classes have their assessments and test week ahead. Remember to put 'First things First' boys and girls, and study for the tests. Play later or even save up your play time until after the week is finished. Good luck and study hard.

NEWS FROM THE GRADE 5 CLASS

The Grade 5 class is not only the biggest class in the Intermediate Phase, but also the liveliest class. With this class there is never a dull moment. History is definitely our favourite subject. We are learning so much from the San people. We enjoy it so much that after every lesson we feel like we have shot a buck with a bow and arrow or even made medicine from herbs. For the rock paintings we made brushes from feathers and sticks. Fortunately we used fake blood as paint and not real blood like the San people used many years ago.

In all things, charity begins at home. Be the beacon of light that your child is searching for, help them reach their goals and dreams, stand by them in times of doubt and trouble. Help them deal with and manage the pain of disappointment, failure or regret. Reinforce through your own behaviour, the values that you would like your children to exhibit to the world around them. Teach them to care for others and to be true to themselves while they become the best version of who they are through this process.

It is test series time and they all have expectations of what they would like to achieve, support them and guide them towards their goals, and when they reach them – celebrate!

Enjoy your weekend,
