Dear Parents

In assembly this week two of our Grade 10 learners had a wonderful message to share: As quoted by Garrit levers in assembly this week.

“You need to accept yourself before you can accept others. How can you love someone else before you even love yourself? We all need to try to accept and love ourselves first. We need to push ourselves, I mean look how far we have all come. We need to accept others and not treat them different from us, nobody can change who we are today. We have all succeeded to be where we are now, people that don't accept others are just jealous of who you are and what you are doing. If we don't accept ourselves then we won't go anywhere in life. When people start to love themselves or to learn how to, you will see a difference in their life.

1. You are intelligent

Whether you have 80% or you're not doing so hot in school, you have more knowledge than you know (pun not intended). Think about all the things you do or are interested in. There is something there that you have a strong grasp on. Whether it's physics, makeup, sports, fashion, writing, or all of the above, you have knowledge that is unique to you!

- 1. You have passion*
- 2. You are talented*
- 3. Other people care for you and love you*
- 4. You deserve happiness*
- 5. You are someone else's sunshine*
- 6. We all have bad days and that's okay*
- 7. You are unique*
- 8. You are worth more than other people's opinions.*
- 9. You deserve more than you think*
- 10. Nothing is worth your own self-destruction*
- 11. You have a bright future*
- 12. You are BEAUTIFUL*

From your head to your toes, your soul to your mind, you are beautiful. Anyone that tells you different is wrong. Don't ever think for a second that you're anything short of a beautiful human being. You are beautiful, and you deserve the world.”

Thank you Garrit and Sadie, your message was very inspiring. Mrs. Struck
